

Square Mineral Tank Jackets

Add a new look to your product line! Clack square tank jackets are designed to compliment our brine tanks and to give your products a finished look. Their graceful and contemporary styling will improve the appearance and increase the value of your products.

Made from high density polyethylene (HDPE), the same material as our brine tanks, these jackets are durable and match in color and texture. Our jackets have high impact resistance and are not prone to stress whitening.

A decorative black injection molded cap provides the finishing touch.

Clack Corporation square mineral tank jackets are sized for polyglass tanks only.
